PROGRAMME DESCRIPTION

For the past decade, CLI has conceptualized and field-tested collaboration methodologies and tools with partners, developing high quality and engaging training curricula, materials, and publications. Through our growing network of partners, we seek to transfer these approaches and materials to skilled specialists around the world and, through them, scale collaboration and impact for sustainability. Therefore, the Collective Leadership Institute developed the Certification Track, which is offered to any individual, who would like to join the network of other collaborative change-makers. In order to become a Collective Leadership Specialist trainees have to take part in three CLI foundation courses (see course outline), learn the CLI methodologies: © Dialogic Change Model and © Collective Leadership Compass, as well as facilitation techniques.
