

Sustainability through Collective Leadership. This is the vision that led to the founding of the Collective Leadership Institute (CLI) gGmbH and is the guiding principle for our work.

As a non-profit organization, CLI provides development cooperation practitioners worldwide with the core competences for dialogue in multi-stakeholder projects. Our approach is based on a model of collective leadership that involves a shift in thinking, in values, and in action, and works to bring about profound global change towards a more sustainable future.

To expand our team we are looking for one

Staff Member for the Digital Strategy of the Collective Leadership Institute

as soon as possible in a full-time capacity in Potsdam, Germany, just outside of Berlin.

As a course management and marketing Staff Member, you will work directly with the head of course programs and experienced international trainers and will be responsible for your own areas of work such as digital learning.

Your tasks in detail:

- Development, support for, and further development of the CLI's digital strategy
- Develop the Collective Leadership Compass Tool (www.compass-tool.net) and other existing formats such as webinars
- Conceive and implement new "digital learning" formats, such as learning videos and build a virtual learning center
- Develop online business models and achieve agreed-upon business goals
- Adapt offline course content to online course formats

Your profile:

- You have experience in the field of digital strategies and online learning, ideally already having implementation experience in digital projects, gaming, campaigns, or online training
- You are aware of business models in the field of digital learning content and digital education
- You are familiar with common learning platforms (such as Moodle), webinar platforms (such as Adobe Connect), learning video portals, and new educational technologies, and can evaluate their application capabilities
- You are familiar with multimedia production, video editing, and image and sound processing
- You are interested in sustainability and the non-profit sector
- You are proficient in German and English, fluency in other foreign languages is advantageous
- You enjoy problem-solving and thinking about future possibilities
- You are tech-savvy and like to work in new approaches
- You are used to bringing in unusual ideas and prototyping them
- You enjoy working with an agile team that travels a lot, has experiences from all over the world, and values cultural diversity

We offer you:

- A small international team that works together in a highly effective and motivated way
- Space for ideas and innovative conceptual approaches
- A very varied range of activity in an exciting, international environment
- The ability to help shape the growth of the organization

Please send applications in German or English to our Head of Courses Martin Fielko (martin.fielko@collectiveleadership.com) who will be happy to answer your initial questions.
