CLI Training Catalogue

WELCOME

Dear Collective Leaders,

At the Collective Leadership Institute (CLI) we believe that it is possible to create a world that works for 100% of humanity and the planet. Since 2005 CLI has empowered people to lead collectively towards common goals. CLI believes Collective Leadership is the key competence for humankind to interact and address challenges in today's globalised, interconnected, and complex world.

This catalogue will guide you to find the right entry point to become a Collective Leader or show you as a CLI alumna or alumnus how to deepen your expertise in collaboration skills for sustainability. No matter in which sector or project you work, whether you just started your career in sustainability or whether you are an experienced senior level manager, we have a training to offer that will enhance your Collective Leadership capacity.

The following key and categories will guide you through the catalogue:

The Art of Stakeholder Collaboration

Key concepts and competencies for achieving common goals

Are you a professional involved in multi-stakeholder partnerships or complex collaboration projects?

Do you want to develop new engagement strategies to create sustainable partnerships and to minimise unproductive conflict?

Do you need a powerful tool to create processes that foster solutions to complex sustainability challenges?

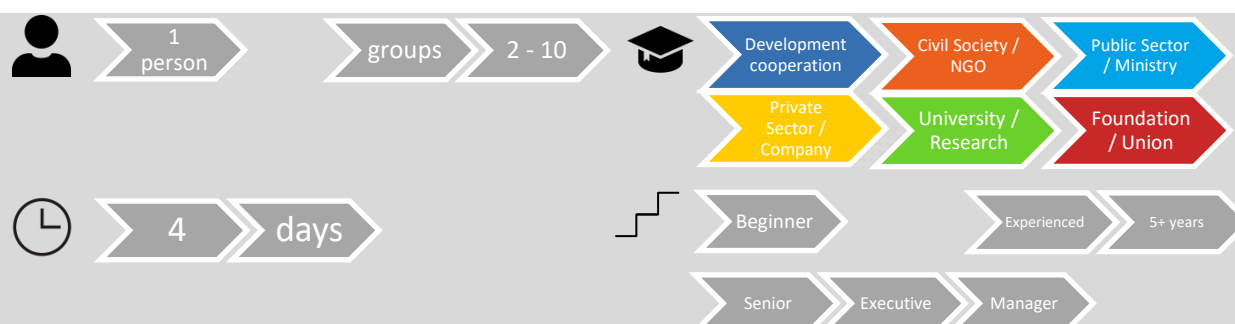

In this course, you will build your strategic abilities and implementation skills in stakeholder engagement, dialogue, and collaboration processes for high impact solutions. The training is based on the combined experience of our faculty and of CLI's alumni from all over the world, active in the public sector, the private sector, and civil society. This course mixes conceptual input with a strong practical element. After this course you will have knowledge and practice in initiating and implementing Stakeholder Collaboration for success.

The tool presented in The Art of Stakeholder Collaboration - the Dialogic Change Model - helps you to design successful stakeholder collaboration processes. In this course we focus on phase 1 (Exploring and Engaging) and phase 2 (Building and Formalizing).

The Art of Leading Collectively

Navigating complex change with multiple actors

Are you starting a complex cooperation project, or are you in the midst of one you want to improve?

Do you need to shift the mind-set of stakeholders toward collaboration, or to find new ways to overcome challenges?

Do you need to arrive at tangible outcomes in a short time frame?

This course will help you implement more outcome-oriented and constructive co-creation on a day to day basis for yourself, your team, your organisation, and, above all, your change initiative with diverse stakeholders. It equips dedicated change makers in public, private, and civil society organisations with a tool for better co-creation. The dimensions of Collective Leadership can be learned and enhanced - individually and collectively.

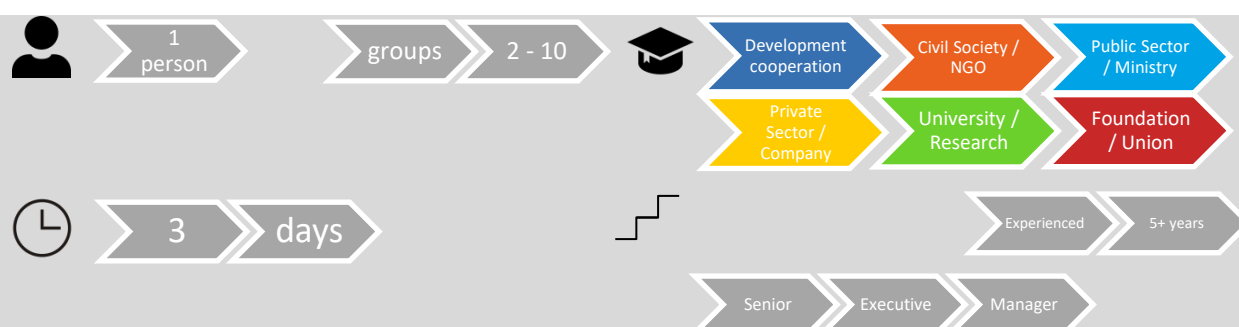

The tool presented in The Art of Leading Collectively - the Collective Leadership Compass - helps you to keep your collaboration journey on track and to identify the necessary course corrections.

The Art of Dialogue

Empowering communication for consensus building

The Art of Dialogue is designed for experienced trainers and facilitators, as well as alumni from other CLI courses who wish to bring their dialogic facilitation skills to an advanced level. Learn new tools for dialogic facilitation and develop your own personal leadership and communication styles in Stakeholder Collaboration. Self-observation, peer-reviews, and our professional feedback will guide you through the journey of improving your communication and facilitation skills. Come with your (cross-sector) team and enhance the quality of your team communication.

- Enhance competence for dialogue and communication
- Develop your ability to anchor dialogic practices in your stakeholder engagement process at all levels
- Empower yourself to develop your presence and stay more present, relaxed, and focused in demanding situations

On-site Courses

CLI's training programmes come to you

You are interested in one of our open course formats, but the dates or places do not meet your schedule?

You have a group of 16 or more people that needs to be trained locally?

You prefer a local setting at the venue of your choice or want to save travel expenses for your group?

We offer a 4-day on-site capacity building program based on the course of your choice of the CLI standard educational program. These courses include:

- The Art of Stakeholder Collaboration
- Advanced Stakeholder Collaboration
- The Art of Dialogue
- The Art of Leading Collectively

* Consolidating your knowledge of The Art of Stakeholder Collaboration with focus on phase 3 and 4 of the Dialogic Change Model, review and adjust your strategies in the preparation and implementation of your stakeholder dialogues

We offer the courses in English, German, French, and Spanish. However, trainings in other languages with simultaneous interpreting can also be booked upon request.

For the on-site course, the programme will be designed with a focus on project or country-specific objectives, including a review and analysis of the project, preparatory interviews with participants, facilitation design and all training material, implementation of the course with two facilitators, debriefing with an option of follow-on capacity building, and a debriefing report with recommendations, all in close communications with your core team.

Training your team on-site can reduce travel costs and makes your planning flexible. We offer this kind of training for 16+ participants and it becomes more affordable the more participants you have. Different projects or organisations can also jointly register to have an on-site training together. You can specify the location, dates, and number of participants (up to 24). Two of our expert trainers will be made available to implement your training.

Price	EUR 1,500 per participant	For 4 days of training for 16 participants with 2 CI facilitators; every additional participant EUR 500 per person; travel and accommodation for the facilitators are extra

Scaling Up Collaboration Skills Globally Capacity Building for Partnering

Dear Friend,

CLI is active in different projects around the world scaling up collaboration skills. With this newsletter you will learn more about our engagement mission in Tunisia, a training on collective leadership skills for the Scaling Up Nutrition Secretariat, CLI's iMove network membership, as well as our Still Point Foundation scholars in Cambodia.

How will the international community achieve SDG 17, and with it, the other sixteen SDGs? This is a question Petra Kuenkel raises in her article on IISD's SDG Knowledge Hub. You will also have an overview of our upcoming courses and events and you can watch the recording of our webinar "Stakeholder Dialogues in Practice".

Whatever sustainability project you are working on, consider the importance of investing in collaboration skills.

Strengthening Civil Engagement in Kairouan, Tunisia

CLI is collaborating with We Love Kairouan, a youth civil society organisation in Kairouan, Tunisia, to strengthen civil engagement, local good governance and decentralisation of the democratic process in Kairouan. CLI offered a workshop for key members of the organisation that combined capacity building and the sharpening of VLK's mission and strategy for engagement using CLI's proven approach of integrated capacity building. We are pleased to profile two of our scholarship recipients, Sarong Vit-Kory and Mai Sieng, who work with WaterSHED Cambodia. They were among our first scholarship recipients for the The Art of Stakeholder Collaboration course in Cambodia. Through a donation from the Still Point Foundation in the United States, up to ten civil society practitioners will have the chance to participate in the training. Three scholarships remain and applications will be considered in the order they are received. Read more >>

NEW Collective Leadership Compass Tool

Open Your Compass and navigate complex change by leading collectively

To use the Collective Leadership Compass in your daily life, access our online Compass Tool to navigate complex change.

There will be three levels of compass application:

- Collaborative Change Maker
- Collaboration System
- Transformation Network

With the 2018 release of the Collective Leadership Compass Tool, the first level “Collaborative Change Maker” will be ready for use:

You can identify your collaboration competency pattern, strengthen your leadership for better co-creation, and increase your impact in navigating complex change. You can improve your Collective Leadership skills by applying the Compass in three ways:

- Identify your competence pattern to assess your strengths
- Identify a challenge pattern to decide what action dimensions to focus on next
- Plan action with the compass to create functional patterns of change

COLLABORATIVE CHANGE-MAKER

Identify your collaboration competency pattern, strengthen your leadership for better co-creation, increase your impact in navigating complex change.

CREATE APP

For the next levels to come, the Compass Tool can also be used on team-, organisation-, and collaboration system level and includes features for a Collective Leadership community.

Feel free to create your free trial account. All participants of The Art of Leading Collectively will use the Tool in the course.

Price	Free trial version	Individual accounts are free. A pricing plan for organisations who would like to use the Tool will be announced soon.

NEW Certified Collective Leadership Specialist

Scaling up collaboration skills globally

CLI Certified Collective Leadership Specialists are trained in the methodologies © Dialogic Change Model and © Collective Leadership Compass and can apply them successfully in practice.

The certification programme requires successfully completing the following course modules:

- The Art of Leading Collectively
- The Art of Stakeholder Collaboration
- The Art of Dialogue

in an open course -, on-site course -, or tailor-made course-format.

By completing our certification programme, Collective Leadership Specialists will have proven expertise in designing and invigorating multi-stakeholder initiatives that work to achieve outcomes across the Sustainable Development Goals.

Becoming a certified Collective Leadership Specialist is also a compulsory qualification to become an accredited Collective Leadership Facilitator.

Price	3 x course fee (EUR 4,950 in open course format)	Including 11 days of training, lunch, welcome dinner, drinks & snacks during the training, a free copy of the book The Art of Leading Collectively
Discounts	Available	Save 450 € when you register for all three courses together

Accredited Collective Leadership Facilitator

Facilitate Collective Leadership core courses and guide Multi-stakeholder initiatives using Collective Leadership methodologies

Accredited Collective Leadership Facilitators are fully empowered to facilitate CLI core courses and facilitate multi-stakeholder processes using Collective Leadership methodologies. Accredited CL Facilitators may lead their own not-for-profit courses in:

- The Art of Stakeholder Collaboration
- The Art of Leading Collectively

This entails that in addition to undergoing the Certified Collective Leadership Specialist programme, they must successfully organise and co-facilitate their own course supervised and supported by an experienced CLI facilitator. Furthermore, they publish a reflective or applied case study on CLI methodologies.

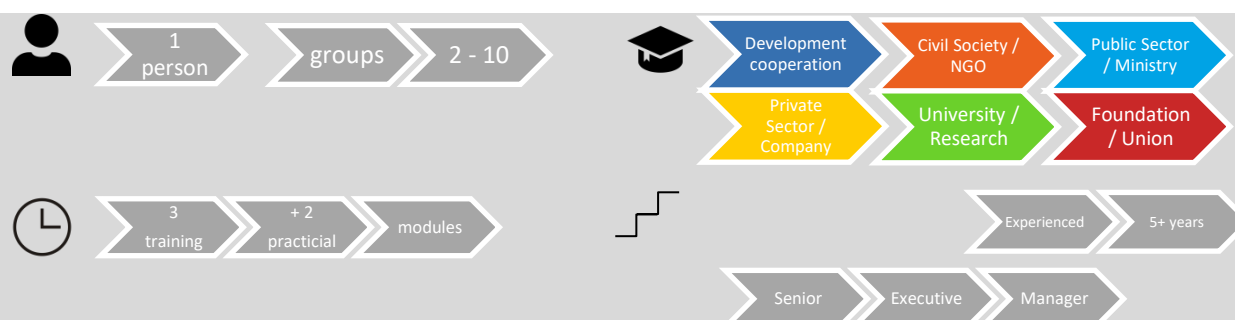

Throughout all phases of the accreditation process, trainees are responsible for demonstrating to CLI faculty fluency with the Collective Leadership approach, aptitude for facilitation and coaching, and a capacity for personal reflection and growth. In order to become accredited, trainees must also embody values such as inclusivity, respect for diversity, professionalism, and a commitment to contributing to the sustainability movement.

Becoming an accredited Collective Leadership Facilitator is also a compulsory qualification to become a Collective Leadership Expert (a person who co-facilitated several courses and practiced dialogic facilitation on a number of complex multi-stakeholder projects, more about this qualification in our next catalogue).

Young Leaders for Sustainability

The word is changing – so is leadership

Training young professionals who are at the beginning of their careers to become future leaders for sustainability is the goal of the Young Leaders for Sustainability programme. CLI has organised YLS around the six dimensions of the Collective Leadership Compass; two dimensions are covered in each training module. However, the holistic approach of the Compass is always at the centre of the training and enables YLS participants to find suitable solutions to complex sustainability challenges.

In the tailor-made format, the composition of the programme is based on the client organisation's needs. For an open format, the session outline is the following:

Module 1

- Exploring leadership
- The Collective Leadership Compass
- Compass dimensions covered: Wholeness, Innovation

Module 2

- Networking
- Teamwork
- Compass dimensions covered: Engagement, Collective Intelligence

Module 3

- Visioning
- Self-awareness of leadership from collective perspectives

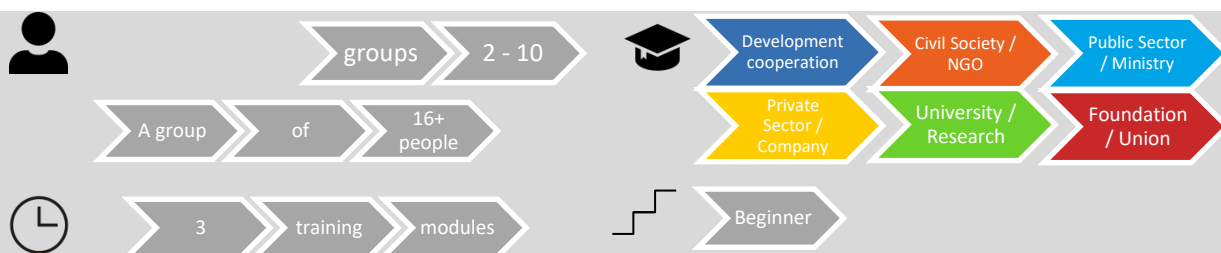

Compass dimensions covered: Future Possibilities, Humanity

Additional components

- Webinars between each module
- Participants will become part of the CLI Alumni Network

Since 2012, CLI has trained 100 young professionals to become leaders for sustainability.

Price	Upon request	Depends on the individual customization and the duration of the training as well as on the group size. Including 12 days of training, 2-3 webinars, a free copy of the book The Art of Leading Collectively

Donate and Support

Help us with your donation to create a sustainable future that works for 100% of humanity and the planet as a whole

DONATE

Do you know a project or initiative where the important skill of collaboration is missing? Does a specific sector in your country need transformation where collective action is essential? Do you know dedicated individuals in civil society whose work could create a crucial impact and who could scale their work with a scholarship for our training programmes?

Investing in collaboration skills always pays off. This is not only possible by participating our trainings. If you have experienced how we support people for better collaboration, you might want to make this possible to underprivileged people, too.

For example, with a generous donation from the Still Point Foundation in the United States, six staff members of civil society organizations in Cambodia and three of their public sector partners had the chance to participate in CLI's Art of Stakeholder Collaboration course in Siem Reap in 2017 and improve their work on water management.

This is just one example of how your 100% tax deductible donation creates an impact in the world. Your donation will:

- Support concrete projects where collaboration skills need to be scaled-up
- Support a community of sustainability-minded people and facilitate the exchange of knowledge to improve co-creation, foster individuals who can find a balance between rational thought and intuition, and invigorate existing human competencies for collaboration
- Support our research on global transformation and a value driven sustainable future
- Further the expansion of Collective Leadership

Engagement missions Creating impact worldwide

CLI's contribution to the emerging global sustainability transformation discourse consists of the development of complex change management methodologies that translate a systems view of life into the planning and implementation of projects, programmes, and initiatives for sustainability, such as the Dialogic Change Model and, in particular, the Collective Leadership Compass. Furthermore, CLI has made a significant contribution to the understanding of the interconnectedness among individual change, group change, institutional change, and collaborative global change endeavours.

Our work on projects on-site is the best proof of concept of our methodologies. As a first step, we offer engagement missions to analyse the collaboration system on-site, meet key stakeholders, and prepare an action plan for next steps to create a flourishing collaboration system. This is combined with consulting and advisory services for the project manager(s) and the team.

If further support is needed during the implementation process of the action plan, we offer process coaching and strategic coaching as additional services.

Price	Upon request	Including pre-interviews with the project manager(s), travel days and days as requested on-site, preparation of an action plan and follow up activities as requested

Process coaching

Concepts and competencies for achieving common goals

Creating a flourishing collaboration system in multi-stakeholder partnerships is a complex and iterative process. CLI can support you in designing the process and creating and sustaining the collaboration system according to the proven methodologies of the © Dialogic Change Model.

Strategic coaching

Navigating complex change

Leadership is essential in multi-stakeholder partnerships. However, linear leadership approaches fail in such complex systems. To give you strategic guidance how to analyse your system, find the leadership challenges, and create concrete action plans to get the partnership up and running, we offer strategic coaching based on the principles of the © Collective Leadership Compass.

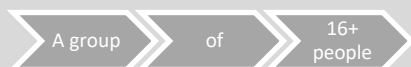

Feasibility Studies

Analysing your collaboration system

It is not an easy decision to start a multi-stakeholder partnership, or other forms of sustainability partnerships. And it is also good to have a neutral broker who reviews the viability of an idea and examines the context to decide if a suggested project, method, or strategy is possible or reasonable. CLI promotes a precautionary principle before deciding to enter into a process as starting a process without having the necessary pre-conditions for success can lead to setbacks that require extra effort and time to recover from. To find out about the feasibility of a multi-stakeholder project, we offer the service of feasibility studies where we analyse your collaboration system, your engagement process, and deliver a written report on the results of that analysis.
